RE: COVID-19 Response and Impact on Continued Service

Last week the Department of Homeland Security issued a statement to help define “critical infrastructure workers.” You can view that statement here:

<https://www.cisa.gov/sites/default/files/publications/CISA-Guidance-on-Essential-Critical-Infrastructure-Workers-1-20-508c.pdf>

As a partner with many companies identified as Essential Critical Infrastructure Workforce, Harvey Vogel Manufacturing Co. falls under the Critical Manufacturing category. As such, it is our intention to remain operational and continue to be a vital part of your supply chain during the Covid-19 pandemic.

In an effort to help us plan for demand in the coming weeks, please let us know if your company also falls under a similar designation. If possible, please send a letter identifying yourself as an essential business with a brief explanation of which category you fall under.

You may respond to this e-mail or send the information directly to your Sales Account Engineer or other contact at Harvey Vogel.

Sincerely,

Bob Verhey
